

What HAS Renee Zellweger done to her face? Bridget actress looks utterly unrecognisable as she steps out with her boyfriend in LA

She's well known for transforming her appearance for movie roles. But off-screen Renee Zellweger displayed an astonishingly different look at ELLE's 21st annual Women In Hollywood Awards on Monday. The 45-year-old raised eyebrows when she stepped out with a suspiciously puffy face and perfectly smooth brow when she stepped out at the event, once again reigniting surgery rumours. The Jerry Maguire actress looked almost unrecognisable with her super line-free forehead and altered brow. She wore her blonde hair in a wispy side-parting, and kept her makeup natural, opting for a light touch of mascara and a slick of pink lipgloss.

Three people killed and another three injured as Hurricane Gonzalo batters Britain with 108mph winds and heavy rain

A woman died after being hit by a falling tree in London (bottom right), while a man was killed after the van he was repairing fell on him. Another man, 63, died after his car hit a railway bridge in Merseyside. Three more were injured by a falling tree in West Sussex. Huge waves battered the coast this morning (left) as the tail end of Hurricane Gonzalo lead to winds of up to 70mph and two weeks of rainfall in just a few hours. Passengers faced delays on planes, trains, and in their cars this morning (top right) as 10,000 people were delayed at Heathrow, with more disruption predicted for this evening.

Take him down: Oscar Pistorius is jailed for FIVE YEARS for killing lover Reeva Steenkamp - but he could be out in just TEN MONTHS

The disgraced Paralympian wiped his eyes as he was handed a five-year prison term after the judge ruled that a non-custodial sentence would send the 'wrong message to the community'. Miss Steenkamp's mother, June, smiled as she told of a sense of 'closure' after the seventh-month trial, but said the sentence 'would not magic Reeva back'. As he was led down to the holding cells (top), Pistorius took off his watch and handed it to his uncle Arnold (bottom left) for safekeeping. During his murder trial, the court had heard how an expensive watch had been stolen from a display case in his bedroom while crime scene officers were gathering forensic evidence nearby.

Young mother pretended she was dying of cancer to get friends and family to pay for her £10,000 wedding - and even tricked her own husband

Danielle Watson, 24, said she had late-stage cervical cancer from January 2012 to claim donations, freebies and cut-price deals for her upcoming wedding worth almost £10,000. The then 21-year-old administration assistant of Rowhedge, Essex, even brought forward her wedding by several months to April that year so she could walk up the aisle before radiotherapy and chemotherapy made her hair fall out. But in fact she had minor surgery for a treatable gynaecological condition and had never been diagnosed with, or treated for, cancer. Watson is pictured (left) yesterday outside Basildon Crown Court, sitting in Southend; and (right) with husband Chris on their wedding day.

Gone from Britain in 60 minutes: How criminal gangs are stealing prestige vehicles from wealthy homes and exporting them within AN HOUR

The organised criminals are targeting sought-after BMWs, Range Rovers (both top left), Audis and even trucks and diggers. The modern vehicles are often stolen using high-tech hacking equipment that means the thieves do not even need a key. They are driven into shipping containers (right) and exported to clients in Africa, Cyprus, the U.S. and even Malaysia and Burma. Some of the car theft rings are so sophisticated they can steal a car and get it out of the country in less than an hour. Police also discovered a container filled with valuable parts from at least 29 stolen BMWs that had been broken down (bottom left).

Legendary fashion designer Oscar de la Renta dies aged 82, just weeks after creating incredible dress for Amal Clooney's wedding

Oscar de la Renta, a legendary fashion designer who shaped the wardrobe of socialites and film stars for four decades, has died at the age of 82. De la Renta passed away at his home in Kent, Connecticut - and while no cause of death has been revealed, he was diagnosed with cancer in 2006. The death yesterday comes less than a month after Amal Alamuddin Clooney wore his dress for her wedding to George Clooney on September 27. ## Don't panic - it's only the Dad's Army remake! Star-studded new cast start filming movie version of classic TV comedy

Chemical romance: Dazzling photographs showcase the rainbow-coloured results of mixing compounds up close

The colourful reactions were captured by three chemistry professors at the University of Science and Technology of China (USTC) in Anhui, China. They show the reactions taking place after acid is dripped onto a flower (pictured inset) or when a copper sulphate solution was mixed with sodium hydroxide, to create copper sulphate precipitate, which looks like a brilliantly blue swimming pool. The main picture shows purple cabbage being dipped into hydrochloric acid. The acid solution causes the cabbage to change colour from purple to red. Titled 'Beautiful Chemistry,' the project was the brainchild of Yan Liang, an associate professor at the university.
